

PA FBLA Competitive Events

2009-2010

~What Is New--In A Nutshell~

RLC Information

Regional Testing

All regions will be completing testing on-line this year. More information will follow from Bruce Boncal regarding specifics. On-line testing will be discussed at the State Leadership Workshop in State College as well.

RLC Dates

Region advisers are asked to please inform the executive director's office asap with your region dates. Regional conferences may be scheduled between December 11, 2009 and January 22, 2010.

RLC School-Site Testing Changes

Beginning this year, the school-site tests will be mailed directly from the executive director's office to the school site administrator for each respective school. They will no longer come from the region adviser. This will follow the same format as previous years with the SLC school-site tests.

Competitive Events Updates/Changes

New Event

Computer Game & Simulation Programming

Interactive computer games and simulation have achieved broad acceptance and implementation in a wide variety of business and educational disciplines. Buried within many of these programs is a message that advances the player's experience from simple entertainment to edutainment. This event tests the programmer's skill in designing a functional interactive simulation/game that will both entertain and educate/inform the player.

Retired Event

Internet Application Programming

Digital Video Production

This event must be submitted in DVD format. No other format will be accepted.

Electronic Career Portfolio

This event must now be web-based.

Speaking Events

Podiums/lecterns will no longer be available for speaking events.

Handbook Changes

There have been some slight handbook changes regarding competitive events. Please take the time to specifically review the performance rating sheets. PA FBLA has aligned with the national guidelines as much as possible.

Mr./Ms. FBL

SLC preliminary
